

New SecurityShield 150

Home Insulation

At a glance,

The New SecurityShield 150 is a lightweight domestic shutter that offers a lower level of security than the 3800 series however serves as a visual deterrent to potential intruders.

The huge benefit of the 150 series however lies in its insulation properties. The aluminum, flat profile, 50mm slats are filled with insulative foam which works to effectively insulate your home. The shutter also provides effective sound insulation which makes it ideal for both rural and urban properties.

These discrete shutters can be powder coated any colour (curtains in white, cream, brown, or woodgrain) to blend in with your home and also provide a blackout effect controlling light in your property.
